ACPM WEBINARS – Submission Form

The ACPM webinar program is popular with both speakers and attendees. Whether the presentation is from an industry insider or an expert panel, these webinars offer an opportunity to provide your expertise to professionals in the retirement income industry. Participating organizations receive the list of attendees and their organizations as well as a video link to the webinar that they can share with current and potential clients. Please refer to the ACPM Approval Guidelines and Process for additional details. ACPM will manage the marketing, registration and execution of the webinar; the participating organization(s) is responsible for content creation, presenter recruitment and delivery.

Key Points

- The topic should provide value to the audience and should not duplicate the treatment of topics of recent webinars or articles. While the topic could be the same, e.g., ESG, the specific treatment of the topic should be unique.
- The topic should be educational in nature and sufficiently sophisticated in treatment which would be more appropriate to senior retirement income industry professionals.
- The webinar should not be self-promoting or advertorial in nature.
- The webinar can be adequately presented in 50-60 minutes including Q&A.

Webinar proposals are reviewed and approved by the ACPM Editorial Committee to ensure that they comply with ACPM guidelines. The committee reserves the right to decline any topic based on overall value, tone, content and/or excessive self-promotion. After completing this form, please email it to events@acpm.com.
